It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS ago LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek "KATHEO" signifying to cleanse, purify, renovate, restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It removes the Dandruff and Scurf of the Head. It is a delightful dressing It eradicates dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich soft, glossy appearance. It is the same in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only 50 Cents per Bottle.

The laws of Ashantee allow to the King an unlimited number His favorite is the Princess Sappon, daughter of a brother of the late King Quacopdaah, who is not only very beautiful, but is a woman of great ability and enjoys great influence with her husband She has borne him but one child, a son, who died while still an infant, about two years ago, to his father's great grief. In Ashantee the Queen Mother takes precedence of any of the King's wives, and is a person of far greater importance than any of the Queen consorts She is the only woman who is allowed to take part in public proceedings, and she has a voice in all matters affecting the policy of the State. The present Queen Mother is Efuah Sawah, for as she is more commonly called throughout the country, Efuah Cobbe, she first being her married name, the latter her maiden name She enjoys unusual influence both with the King, her son, and with the people, and as a woman of great ability and shrewdness, she can go about openly and unveiled, but if an Ashantee look upon the unveiled face of one of the King's wives it is certain death All the King's wives are kept jealously secluded in the women's quarter of the palace to which are attached large and well kept gardens This quarter is jealously guarded by the King's Eunuch Guard, who number 150

The King's wives are the only women who are kept so secluded.

The women as a general rule can go about freely

A KITCHEN CABINET

The King of Ashantee has so one who can properly be described as Prime Minister, but among the nobles of his household there are two—Bossumbuil Tia and Appiah—who possess great influence with him, and have the management of all public affairs They may be regarded as his chief Ministers.

THE ARMY AND NAVY WELLINGTONS.

The command of the army which invaded the Fantee countries, and is now attacking Cape Coast, was originally entrusted to Amanquah Tia, one of the greatest of the Ashantee nobles, and whose territories are in the immediate neighborhood of Commassie He also holds the post of Governor or keeper of the Bantumah This is a fortified building, in which all the tombs of the kings of Ashantee, in which their crown and most valuable treasures are kept, and which is one of the principal magazines for military munitions in the kingdom The King of Ashantee visits it once a year, and remains in seclusion in it for twenty days

Amanquah Tia is about forty years of age and is a distinguished warrior He was accompanied by old Asea Mudjuantah, the Ashantee Von Moltke He is a little, old man, with white hair and a long white beard The old warrior is nearly seventy years of age, and is regarded with great confidence in his skill He has greatly distinguished himself in the many wars the Ashantees waged with the tribes of the interior, and also commanded in the second Ashantee war

Among the other distinguished Ashantee generals may be mentioned Addnoco, who occupies a position closely resembling that of commander in chief in England He is the permanent head of the Ashantee army, he advises the King on all matters connected with the organization and on the appointment of generals to command bodies taking the field He does not himself as a rule take part in active service

Addoo Barfoo is another well known General, who is remarkable, however, for his ferocity and cruelty He commanded in the late Kut pac expedition, when among other prisoners, he captured, the four Europeans now in captivity at Commassie They are two German missionaries and one Parisian man, with the wife of one of the German missionaries. Emin, a half brother, of Koffee Calcalli, also holds high command, as does Assalo Boutchie, who is also of royal blood Among the most esteemed of the Ashantee generals may be also named Baggla Ressie Among the great chiefs who hold high commands from the number of their retainers, as distinguished from the fighting ones, may be mentioned Asafo Daggo, the Prince of Jabon, Dookoo and the Prince of Mampon

Since the King has taken the field in person he has himself assumed the chief command, and Amanquah Tia, the advanced guard Assa Moquantah is with the king, and has the direction of all operations His position may perhaps best be described as that of the Chief of the Staff. As the operations of the war are planned by him and all the generals are subordinate to him

HOW THE KING RESEMBLES THE SHAH

The King of Ashantee never goes barefooted, always wearing sandals richly jewelled and when traveling is carried in a hammock by bearers All the hammock bearers are supplied by one tribe from the interior. He is remarkable above all his subjects by the costliness and splendor of his robes

The King and the chiefs when at war wear loose Turkish trousers of different colored stuffs. They are thus to be known from the rank and file, who wear only a cloth and no trousers.

THE PRINCE OF JABON

On the King leaving to take the field he was accompanied by Asafo Baggo, the Mighty Prince of Jabon, who is the greatest of all the Ashantee nobles, and who never leaves the field except the King does so in person He has brought with him a large reinforcement of men from his own territories — He can from his own feudal vassals alone bring a well armed force of from 15,000 to 20,000 men into the field He stands at the head of the entire aristocracy of Ashantee, ranking next after the King

Bosko and the Prince Mampon just mentioned, came after him, bringing the largest force of retainers into the field each probably being able to raise from 7,000 to 10,000 men

MANUFACTURES.

A very extensive manufacture of cloth is carried on at Commassie, and the cloth manufactured is remarkable, for its fine texture and durability. Much of the fine velvet and silk stuffs used for the King's and chiefs' state and costume reaches Ashantee from Europe, the latter coming probably from Manchester. Tweed is also imported, and great use is made of cotton cloth of Manchester manufacture.

JOHN M. LYNDE, - - PROPRIETOR.

SATURDAY OCT. 4 1873

Some of the Democratic newspapers are denouncing the Northern Pacific Railroad enterprise as an 'Administration Measure.' The editors forget that the road was chartered several years before Grant became President.

A Washington special says there is the best authority for saying that the President has decided to make no appointment for the vacant Chief Justiceship until after the reassembling of Congress, and that as yet, that position has not been tendered to any person.

The Government has finally decided to take prompt steps to break up the Ku Klux organization in Kentucky and punish all its members who have been guilty of perpetrating outrages upon peaceable citizens. To this end instructions have been sent to the U S District Attorney and Marshal at Louisville.

Charles W Lovett, who has filled the office of Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the last fifty years has just retired into private life. His term of service has extended through the administrations of Governors Eustis, Lincoln, Davis, Everett, Morton, Briggs, Boutwell, Clifford Washburn, Gardner, Banks Andrew, Bullock Claflin and Washburn Truly a notable record for a faithful public officer.

A sad cry comes to us from Memphis, and will we doubt not appeal strongly to the sympathies of the generous throughout the land. The yellow fever scourge is making terrible havoc among the people of that city and aid from outside sources has become absolutely necessary. Money is needed to pay nurses, to buy food, to bury the dead, and to shelter the orphans and helpless. Direct by telegraph to John Johnston Mayor of the city of Memphis.

M Duran the originator of the General Red Cross Convention, is advocating an international convention for the humane treatment of prisoners of war. Aided in his endeavor by many of the prominent philanthropists of Europe he recently delivered a lecture on the subject at Brighton, England. Influential members of both houses of Parliament have promised M Durant their support, and an effort will soon be made to introduce the British Government to convene a diplomatic conference in London.

The latest number of Harper's Weekly has a picture by Nast which is quite as striking in its effects as the very best productions of this artist. It represents Uncle Sam sitting near the national treasure box and beside him a watch-dog with the letters U S G. on his collar. The dog is kept in place by a chain labeled Law and over it are given the words of President Grant, declaring that he cannot violate the law. Reverdy Johnson and Vanderbilt stand by, asking for money and Uncle Sam tells them, Look out, boys they say he is a Cæsar (seize her)!

A Hungarian humanitarian, whose wife was dying very painfully and protractedly from the effects of an accidental dose of corrosive poison considerately put an end to her sufferings with a pistol ball for which act he was mistakenly tried on a charge of murder but his sentence has been commuted on account of the benevolence of his motives. The importance of this precedent will be manifest to all sons in law as well as beneficiaries little judicious carelessness in leaving poison about the house being all that is necessary to start with.

The Vienna Congress has assented by a unanimous vote upon the proposition of Gen Meyer, that it is desirable that at least one uniform weather observation of such character as to be suitable for the preparation of synoptic charts be taken and recorded daily and simultaneously at as many stations as practicable throughout the world. The formal announcement of this principle tends directly to an exchange of signal service and weather reports between all civilized nations. The Chinese Government is preparing the establishment of a system of storm warnings and weather reports for China and the Chinese coast of the Pacific.

It is reported that the King of the Sandwich Islands like the hero of the old song, is sick and like to die and that the four heirs who will shortly become "heirs at law" are determined to seize his throne the moment the breath leaves his body. One David Kalakaua in order to get the inside track of his competitors has disciplined a small army to seize this small kingdom and drills his forces on every pleasant afternoon after tea. As yet the little army is without arms, Mr Kalakaua not having money enough to pay for the rifles he has ordered and if there is to be a revolution, so far as David is concerned, there is little probability of wounds more dangerous than black eyes or bloody noses being inflicted. Seriously however the death of King Lunalilo may be productive of great changes in the affairs of the Sandwich Islands.

The pestilence at Shreveport, where sixty per cent of those attacked with fever died, developed some signal instances of moral heroism. Not to mention the cases of those physic ans from other cities who have voluntarily sought the infected locality to heal the sick there are noticeable examples of self-sacrifice among the citizens of the town. While a very large majority of those whose means permitted have fled with their families from the place, others, equally able to defray the expense of flight, have bravely remained to share the peril and privations of their helpless neighbors. Many of these Good Samaritans have died and many are now ill. If calamities so dreadful as this Shreveport scourge bring into bold relief the darker phases of human nature it is equally true that they show humanity in its brightest aspects.

The New York Tribune rebukes some of its contemporaries, whom, it says are pushing opposition to unreasonable lengths in accusing President Grant of incivility in rebuking the impertinence of a "traveled man" who was descanting in his presence upon the advantages of a monarchy over a republic. It is said that this person appealed to the President for a confirmation of some of his opinions and was met by the quiet reply "I think you would have done better to remain abroad—you can hardly be happy here." A very timely and proper lesson most people will say. The Americans who, having ridden on the tops of London omnibuses for a day or two, come home to say republics are a failure and that we need a graded aristocracy, need some rather robust discipline. And they are usually the sort of persons on whom a word from a President would fall with crushing power.

Louisa Mohlbach, whose death is reported from Berlin, attained a certain amount of popularity through a series of historical novels which, while they drew forth the adverse criticism of historians generally, gained for her the favor of a large class of readers on both sides of the Atlantic. She was the wife of a German literateur, professor of history and special literature at Berlin, and librarian of the University of that city. Her books are acknowledged by a certain charm of style and novelty in the range of historical romance, and her stories, however untrue to history and to fact, are generally interesting and graphic. "Frederick the Great and his Court," "Napoleon and his Generals," "Maria Theresa," are among some of the best read and most popular of her works.

SECOND DAY

Thursday's session opened with reports of the production, condition, and average yield of crops this year in the State, given by the members from each county. The gist or summary up of the whole was that the leading crops in Maine in 1873 were about as follows. Hay, ten per cent more than the average for the past ten years, potatoes, 5 per cent less but of better quality; grain 20 per cent. less; dairy productions interesting especially cheese from associated dairies. Full and extended reports from the cheese factories throughout the State showed them all to be prosperous and much more successful than it was supposed they would be last spring.

An able essay on Associated Dairying by J W Lang of Brooks, was followed by a prolonged discussion, which proved to be very interesting, many new facts in the premises being elicited. The indications are that the sours of cheese factories in Maine will be more than doubled next year. Our thin cheese has sold and is selling freely for home consumption at 15 to 16 cents per pound.

D M Dunham of Bangor read an interesting paper on Agricultural Implements which, considering that he is a dealer in such tools, was wonderfully impartial and common sense.

The afternoon was largely occupied with a very able talk on lecture on Special Farming by Leander Wetherell editor of the Boston Cultivator. Discussion followed and as the field was a broad and inviting one, it was irregular and took a wide range embracing almost every agricultural question.

The day has been splendid, and the attendance of Aroostook county farmers good. Much interest has been manifested throughout, and the results of the meeting cannot fail of being beneficial.

Invitations for holding the winter session of the Board have been received from two places Wiscasset and Waterville. A formal decision has not yet been made by the Board, but Waterville will probably be selected.

In the unavoidable absence of A L Simpson, Esq of Bangor, the member of the Board from Penobscot county, J E Shaw Esq, represented the county. The credentials of only one new member were received Geo B Bracket of Belfast, who was appointed by the Governor member from the State in place of Prof Bracket of Bowdoin College resigned.

At the meeting Mr J R Weed, of Littleton, exhibited five Early Rose potatoes weighing over five pounds, which grew from seed planted July 3d, a statement which seems almost improbable but it is true.

Mr Shermap, of Maple Grove, presented for exhibition some fine specimens of Aroostook grown apples and onions. One of the latter was 16½ inches in circumference and he raised at the rate of 1100 bushels per acre. The seed some in Houlton, the morning at $2.00 per bushel, which would make his crop amount to $2200 per acre. I give this as a specimen Aroostook story.

At the evening session, a paper on Ornamental Farming was read by L H Winslow, of Lincoln county, followed by President Allen of Orono who presented a very able essay on the subject, "How Science Promotes Agriculture." It occupied about an hour in delivery and containing so many valuable thoughts and suggestions was listened to very attentively by a large audience.

THIRD DAY

Friday forenoon a valuable paper on Stock Breeding was given by President Purcival, followed by discussion. In the afternoon, A G Gilbert gave a paper on Special Farming, and after the usual complimentary remarks and resolutions and closing routine business, the Board adjourned.

Gov Perham and Councillors Harlow, Fisher and Thompson left for New Sweden this Friday morning, and will remain there over Sunday. They have been present during the meetings of the Board and have participated in the discussions, thus giving valuable aid and support and countenance to the institution. A party made up of members of the Board and others present at the session, will leave here Saturday morning for a visit to New Sweden and thence to attend the Provincial Fair at Fredericton next week.

QUIDAM.

Sir Edwin Landseer whose death is announced by cable was born in London in 1803 and was the son of John Landseer, an engraver, who acquired almost as great a reputation for his engravings of animals as his son did as a painter of them. Sir Edwin while yet a child, was remarkable for his skill in drawing, and for the facility with which he seized the expression of the objects he desired to portray. He studied earnestly and patiently from nature and at the age of eighteen he painted the picture of the rescue of a traveller from death in the snowdrifts of an Alpine pass by the dogs of St Gothard which has since, through the medium of engravings and lithographs, become known the world over. In 1827 he was elected associate member of the Royal Academy. The same year he made a tour of Scotland the results of which were seen in a series of character like paintings among which were Walter Scott and his Dogs" "The Cheviot Spearer" and various other painting representing scenes of Scotch life and the like. The names of Sir Edwin's paintings are legion, and probably the works of no modern painter are as widely known. Nobody has seen 'High Life and Low Life' the panion picture, and Landseer is known through his works, to thousands to whom De LaCroix and Wilkie are but names. We therefore all the more a matter of congratulation that his pictures always display beside their peculiar merits, artistic feeling of a high order. In 1850 he was knighted and in 1855 gained at the Paris Exhibition the only gold medal awarded to an English artist.

A contrast between Democratic civil service and that provided by the Republicans, says the Indianapolis, (Ind.) Journal:

In the good old Democratic days, when banks began to tumble every day, it was not any money at all became at once aggressive and anxious to trade it off for bank money—much more inconvenient to handle, but much safer to hold. If he held the notes of banks other than which failed, he was a loser something by depreciation born of distrust engendered by the hard fortune of those that "went down." And one of the chief of the deplorable results of a financial panic was that for months and years afterward there was an unreliability in the value of bank notes, which had an unsettling effect upon business matters generally. To-day the case is different. If the events of the past two weeks were ten times worse than they have been, the national currency would not suffer in the least. We have no depreciation. A dollar of paper money has the same purchasing power to-day that it had ten days ago. It is doubtful if one of our readers has thought to examine closely handed him, to see whether any of it was issued by any of the suspended banks. He has no occasion to look.

GINNELL & CO. EXPELLED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. It was officially announced at the Exchange this morning that the Governing Committee had expelled Messrs. Grinnell & Williams for non-compliance with the rules set down by the Committee.

The House was largely "long" of Lake Shore, Western Union, New York Central, and other Vanderbilt stocks. The failure was the occasion of much indignation, as it was supposed that the bankruptcy proceedings were instituted in collusion with creditors for the purpose of enabling Geo. B. Grinnell & Co. to sell their stock at rates way up or to fall without additional loss if the prices went down. There is also some fear now that when the three days grace allowed by the Stock Exchange have expired a number of failures.

MINOR FAILURE.

The failure of Albert Cole, a small broker, was announced, and sales under the rule were made for his account.

The Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange were appointed a committee to investigate the affairs of A. D. Williams; and John Bonner with the Bank of North America, and Edward Haight & Co., with the Commonwealth Bank.

THE MARKET EASIER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—Evening. The money market has tended towards further ease. The highest rates on call loans to day was [illegible] and the lowest 7 per cent. per annum. Yesterday the highest was 7 and the day before 7 per cent.

CURRENCY.

The banks are gaining currency and the boarded legal tenders are returning to the market. The premium to-day on these was 1 to 1 per cent.—the latter being what is asked, business having been at the lowerrate.

LOAN CERTIFICATES.

The Loan Committee of the Clearing House to day reduced upon a withdrawal of loan certificates, on motion of which were cancelled to-day. A still further reduction will be made as fast it is prudent.

LETTER FROM SECRETARY RICHARDSON.

WASHINGTON, Oct 3. The following letter was written to day :—

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C, Oct. 3.

Samuel T Tupper, Esq., Pres't. Chamber of Commerce, Charleston, S. C.

Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the memorial of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce addressed to the President of the United States and referred to this Department, which, after reciting the present stringency in the money market and the difficulty of obtaining currency, requests that the sum of $500,000 be placed and maintained on deposit with the Assistant Treasurer at Charleston, to be used by him in the purchase of New York exchange from the banks. To comply with the request it would be necessary for the Treasury Department to send currency by express to Charleston from time to time, and buy with it exchange on New York in competition with private bankers. Should this request be granted, a hundred other places in the country might with equal propriety ask for the same relief, and if all such requests were granted impartially, the Department would find itself engaged in an extensive exchange business and fixing and regulating the rate of exchange between the different places of the country, and public money, raised by taxation only for the purpose of carrying on the Government, would be employed to a very large amount in a business which Congress has not yet given the Secretary of the Treasury any authority to engage in. With due regard to the principles of management of the Treasury Department within the provisions of the law, I have felt it to be my duty to decline all similar propositions from other places, and your request must therefore receive the same response.

(Signed) WILLIAM A. RICHARDSON,
Sec'y. of the Treasury.

THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.

MEETING OF THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE IN NEW YORK—LARGE ATTENDANCE FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3. The formal opening of the session of the Evangelical Alliance took place in Steinway Hall at 10 30 o'clock this morning.

LARGE ATTENDANCE.

Rarely, if ever before, was so large and enthusiastic a gathering for religious purposes held in this city. The vast hall was crowded to excess with delegates and they swarmed on the lobbies and stairs at either end of the hall through which the last arrivals came. The largest platform was so crowded that as early as 10 o'clock there was hardly standing room. The Oriental delegates in white garments, were conspicuous objects in the vicinity of the altar. The meeting was called to order by Wm. E. Dodge, who made a brief speech of welcome.

After singing the Doxology, prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Hodge; Rev. Dr. Begg of London read a portion of the fifth chapter of John's Gospel, and another prayer was offered by Rev. Matteo Rachet of Italy. The Dean of Canterbury then repeated the Credo, and the congregation rose and as with one voice chanted the Evangelical Coronation Hymn.

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

was effected by the election of Rev. Dr. T. D. Woolsey of New Haven, as President, Rev. Dr. Sudremis Prime General Secretary, and the following Vice Presidents:—Wm. F. Havemeyer of N. Y., Lord Alfred Churchill of London, Robert C. Winthrop of Mass., Prof. J. A. Dorner of Berlin, ex-Gov. Buckingham of Conn., Wm. E. Hodge of New York, H. H. Stewart of Va., Rev. George Finch of France, Wm. H. Greisbroeck of Ohio, F. F. Frelinghuysen of N. J., F. R. Brunot of Pa., Wm. H. Aspinwall and Alexis Cornell, D. D., of N. Y., Wm. Claflin of Mass., Prof Henry of Washington, Charles Reed, M. P. of London, Ira Eberle of N. Y., Geo. H. Stuart of Pa., Gun ceiling Daniel Both of Del., Prof. Philip Schaff of N. Y., Peter Parker of Washington, E. H. Pendleton of Ohio, John C. Backus of Md., Mayor S. S. Powell of Brooklyn.

DR. WOOLSEY'S SPEECH.

President Woolsey then took the chair, amid applause, and said:—

We are met here today because we believe in the communion of saints (applause.) We believe that man in his nature has aspirations, his senses of want, his need of redemption is one, and that God is one, and that in all the various unfolding of Christian character and Christian life there is one Christian character—the spirit of love for God and love of man, resting in Jesus Christ our Lord, in the hope of redemption through Him. We can say unto Him who loved us and washed us from our sins in His own blood and has made us clean unto God His Father, to Him be glory and praise and dominion forever and forever. Amen. (Enthusiastic applause) And as man, in all ages of the past, from the age of the Apostles down to our time, in every land and in every form of worship, has had access through Christ to the Father, there was "communion of saints, believers in one great universal church that has lasted thro' all time until now, and is to last until the end of all things. (Applause.)

Dr. Woolsey spoke of the attacks upon Christianity, which he said had served through the past only "to bind us together as Christians and make us forget our differences, and while we value the discipline and creed inculcated handed down to us from our fathers more than those of others, will not these assaults of the adversary make all the real friends of God's army move together as one united body?" In concluding Dr. Woolsey as President welcomed all, saying—"We welcome the Lutheran, the children of free, herdic Switzerland, the representatives from France; we welcome those from all other parts of European and those who come like the first fruits from Eastern lands; those from England, Scotland, Ireland, and those of every name and race who are here."

The Dean of Canterbury read a

The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Mr. Converse, in absence of Rector, assisted by Rev. Dr. Lambert of Charleston. The remains were clothed in full uniform and enclosed in a casket embossed in silver and draped with American colors. THIS WORLD AND I.

BY NELLY S HUTCHINSON.

Whether my heart be glad or no
The summers come, the summers go.
The fall is drawn dark with dying leaves,
I hides hang beneath the eaves,
The asters usher to the snow
The dandelion summer end and go,
Whether my life be glad or no

Whether my life be sad or no,
The winters come, the winters go.
The sunshine plays with baby leaves,
Swallows build above the eaves,
The lovely wind flowers bend and blow
Thus doth the winter end and go,
Whether my life be sad or no

Yet Mother Nature gives to me,
A fond and patient sympathy
In my own heart I find the charm
To make her tender peace and warm
Through summer sunshine, winter snows
She clasps me sad or glad or no

CHARADE.

IN THREE PARTS.

My first is a country on the other side of the world with a population of about 300 000 000 These people subsist chiefly on rice and rats, and the chief product of the country is

TEA,

My second as seen in this country consists of the dried leaves of several plants of the genus Ilex belonging to the natural order of Trasitromkaceæ The leaves are two or three inches long, and half as much in breadth, and of elliptical oblong shape These leaves, when properly prepared make a very delicious and gently exhilirating beverage, which is among men—the great antidote of Misery and the same as Mockery say the cigar is among men—the great promoter of secrets

My third is just the same place as my whole being the best place in the State of Maine to buy the best

Teas, Coffees, Spices, &c., &c.,

For the least money

THE ANSWER

My First is CHINA.
My Second is TEA.
My Third is STORE.

And my whole is the celebrated establishment call ed the China Tea Store

The attention of families in the Country is respectfully called to the fact that they can save considerable money and get a better article if they will club together and send to the CHINA TEA STORE. Write your orders plain and you will be sure

THE PORTLAND KEROSENE OIL COMPANY

Would inform the public, that they continue to manufacture

PORTLAND KEROSENE OIL,

The prevalence of large quantity of benzine and dangerous oils in the market at cheap prices—many of which are little better than naptha itself—and the existence of false reports in regard to the Portland Kerosene Oil, render it a matter of justice to ourselves as well as safety to consumers that some notice should be taken of these facts Therefore, we again present an advertisement, and would call attention to the high reputation of our Oils. The REFINED PETROLEUM the first test of which is 102 THE PORTLAND KEROSENE the fire test of which is 105 degrees Fahrenheit, and often reaches 110 and 115 degrees. We would say that we are determined to maintain their long established reputation.

PORTLAND KEROSENE OIL COMPANY

We quote from chap 33 R S 1871 the title of said chapter being Inspection and sale of Manufactured Articles

Sec 51 Every person and corporation engaged in manufacturing petroleum naptha or burning fluid, shall cause every cask or other vessel filled to be sold specified and marked by a sworn inspector. And any person or persons or agents such of or have my fluid not inspected and marked as this State or that has not been so inspected and marked as unsafe for illuminating purposes shall pay a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars or be fully liable to individuals in the county all up on that subject.
